

Songs that Illustrate the Design Principles

At a session during the 2000 National Expeditionary Learning Conference in Memphis where Deb Fordice shared the idea for a design principle concert, our session's teachers sang songs from our concert and then brainstormed an expanded list of songs for each design principle. If you want to find lyrics, you may find many of them at this website: <http://www.poplyrics.net/main1.htm> You can link to purchase CD's and printed music.
